

NEVER FORGET YOU ALL

“For Your Tomorrow, We Gave Our Today”

“When you go home, tell them of us and say, For your tomorrow, we gave our today.”

This famous verse, known as the ‘Kohima Epitaph’, was carved on the British memorial in the 2nd World War Cemetery in Kohima, India. It is attributed to John Maxwell Edmonds an English classicist, poet.

The Wall of Remembrance in the UN Memorial Cemetery with the engraved names of 40,896 UN Fallen.

This issue is published by Namgu District in memory of the fallen who paid the ultimate sacrifice for Korean freedom